WHEN THE GOBLINS (AND ABOUT EVERYTHING ELSE) HAD THEIR NIGHT . . . OR WHAT THE YOUNGER SET IS WEARING THIS YEAR) . . . Kids of this community followed tradition and dressed up for Halloween and they had a great time doing it.

The merchants of the Campbell Shopping Center cooperated with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and staged a party for the youngsters at the Shopping Center complete with a real "spook show" as well as many prizes for the many types of gay and otherwise regalia that the young fry sported for the night.

Some of the prize-winners caught by the photographer are pictured above. It is not surprising that because of the difficulty in penetrating the disguises that the identity of some of the dressed-up children must forever remain unknown. (Or maybe some of our readers can help us out). Anyway here's the best we could do in our identification of the participants in the Halloween dress parade.

In the first picture our notes shaw that Marie Nooteboom (man); Barnadotte Contando (raggedy ann) and Jona Sangiacomo (Indian girl) are in it. In the background on the left is Sam Cava, one of the judges, with Mrs. Reed Nielsen on the far right, another judge. The clown for the affair is Eddie Wright, who in civilian life is manager of Lee Bros. Market at the Shopping center. (That's as far as we can go).

Pictured next (our notes again) are Cathy McCarthy, Cathy Brown and Cynthia Fryberger (we think); Next (we are pretty sure of this) are Dick Carey (clown); Anthony Petralia (mouse) and Randy Lo Morte (scarecrow). In the final picture are Ronnie Breshears (girl), Timothy Vogledohl, (pirate); Bobby Jones and Charlie Rice (tramps) and Timmy Bryant (soldier). We don't know how close we came on the names, but for gosh sakes, give us an "E" for trying.—Campbell Press photo.

HALLOWEEN NIGHT VANDALS . . . broke heavy chains like these at Lower Page Dam to open the gates and divert irrigation water into Lower Page Ditch. The result was a street full of water at the intersection of Dutard and Almarida avenues. The water ran out of the orchard at the north end of the ditch and into the streets.

Hallowe'en Prank

Vandals Open Valve, Street Under Water Next Morning

Two residents of Almarida Drive in Campbell woke up last Thursday morning to find the street in front of their homes and their front lawns under about two feet of water.

What had happened was that the previous night (Halloween) vandals had opened the gates on Lower Page Dam and sent Los Gatos Creek water into Lower Page Ditch. From there the water had run into orchard land at the end of the ditch and, ultimately, into Almarida Drive.

Santa Clara Valley Conservation District personnel received a call from one of the residents affected, Mrs. Alvin B. Routt, 790 Almarida Drive, telling that the street and her lawn were covered with water.

Conservation District personnel, arriving at the scene found the heavy padlock and chains which lock the dam gates broken. They estimated that the damage was done after 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, because the dam was checked by the tender at that time.

According to J. Robert Roll, engineer for the Conservation District, the vandalism could not have been done by small children. The gates require the efforts of two men to open, not to mention the breaking of the heavy chains.

The water was diverted before it could do any real damage to the residences on Almarida. It was drained from the street by the Conservation District Thursday afternoon, leaving a layer of silt in the streets and on the lawns.

The water runs into a dip at the corner of Almarida Drive and Dutard Ave. A similar occurrence happened last July 4 when ditches and banks in the orchard broke down allowing irrigation water to flow into the streets.

Mrs. Hans Nielsen, 785 Almarida Drive, was one of the homeowners affected. She was under the impression that the water had come from the orchard this time. The orchard is owned by Merle Gardner, 333 E. Hamilton Ave.

The water is brought to the orchard from the creek through the Lower Page Ditch near Casey Road and by an underground ditch and pipeline.

Sheriffs department is reportedly checking on the culprits.

Red Feather Drive Nets $5604 of Goal

Campbell Red Feather workers reported a total collection of $5604 (56 per cent) toward Campbell's goal of $10,000 as of last week, Howard Lillingston, Campbell area chairman for the drive announced.

The drive began October 8. It will provide funds for 1957 for 30 Red Feather agencies throughout central Santa Clara County.

Breakdown of figures for the Campbell area are as follows: residential, $2605 of a $4200 goal; business, $798 of a $2000 goal; professional, $170 of $300; commerce and industry, $438 of $1200; schools, $1591 of $2000. Public employees are unreported.

Give The United Way

Lillingston urged renewed efforts on the part of doorbell ringers. "We all benefit from the work of the 30 agencies . . . " he said, citing the example of the Girl Scouts, which has a total of 1352 adult and young members in Campbell alone.

Campbell Family Bound For Home From Cairo, Egypt

Word was received this week from Campbell resident Dr. Paul Roberts, who was on a fellowship in war torn Cairo, Egypt, that he and his family have been evacuated and are on the way home. Roberts is on the San Jose State College English Department faculty.

Mrs. W. C. Bohnett, stepmother of Roberts' wife, the former Emily Bohnett, received a cablegram from Crete telling her that Roberts, his wife and their three children Ellen, Paul Calvin and Scott, are destined for Naples, Italy.

They are aboard the U.S.S. Patch. It is presumed that they will take a boat to the United States upon their arrival in Naples.

During 1955 Dr. Roberts taught linguistics at the University of Cairo and introduced a program for the teaching of history of the English language in Egyptian secondary schools.

In 1956 he received an appointment with the Egyptian Ministry of Education. He has held this position until the present crisis in the Middle East.

Previous to going to Egypt, the family were Campbell residents at 175 W. Rincon Ave. The home is presently rented to Mr. and Mrs. David P. Edgell. He is also on the English Department faculty at San Jose State, and is a former head of the English Department at the University of Cairo. It was there that the two families met and made the deal to rent the home, according to Mrs. Bohnett.

Trees and Dogs Head Agenda at Council Meeting

Dogs and trees were among the items discussed by the Campbell City Council at its meeting Monday night. In addition the Councilmen heard from City Engineer Mark Thomas how work on the various streets was progressing.

On the tree situation, the City Dads granted permission to Dr. Robert M. Wade to remove four walnut trees from the parkway in front of the building he is remodeling into a medical center at 440 N. Winchester Road. Because of the eventual widening of Winchester Road the council ruled that it would not be necessary to replace the trees in this case.

Filed was a letter from Mrs. Virginia B. Beckett, 441 N. Carlyn, who complained about dogs running loose through her flowers. She implied that she considered Campbell a real paradise, but did not want it to go to the dogs.

In regard to street improvements, Thomas reported that the utility companies were planning to remove the power poles on Hamilton Ave. next week which would pave the way for the widening job to get under way from Winchester Road to Central Ave. The engineer also said that the trees would also be removed shortly.

Thomas also told the Council that the planing of Winchester Road had been completed and that the resurfacing would begin next week.

He informed the City Dads that in answer to a complaint made by

Death of Kitty Stalls the City

The death of a little kitten almost disrupted the official business of the City of Campbell Monday night.

As it was, the demise of the baby feline, a member of Mayor John M. Chargin's household, only delayed the start of the City Council meeting for more than a half hour. But it was a close call.

The minor tragedy occurred as the Mayor started for the Council meeting. In backing his car out of the driveway he ran over the family kitten. This naturally upset the four Chargin youngsters and Mrs. Chargin.

The Mayor took the grievously injured kitty to the vet but it was so badly injured it had to be destroyed. Then, worried about his wife who is expecting another child soon, the mayor called the family doctor and obtained some pills for her.

He then proceeded to the Council meeting.

In the meantime down at the Council Chambers, Councilmen Charles Rose and Myron Fairchild were helpless to get the Council meeting rolling because of a lack of a quorum. Councilman Richard Morton was ill and Councilman Charles Schmidt had been called East because of the death of his father.

Having done his best to restore domestic tranquility, the Mayor finally arrived to preside over the Council session, which he allowed was a much more peaceful state of affairs than what he had experienced.

Ordinarily a local minister offers a prayer at the beginning of the Council meeting.

But the abbreviated Council had to forego this assistance Monday night.

The Rev, Herbert Neale was present at the scheduled time, but could not wait for the arrival of the mayor because of a previous engagement.

Campbell Barber Retires Following 40 Years in Town

Sort of an era passed last Saturday in Campbell when Orie Grizzle closed down his barbershop at 382 E. Campbell Ave., after 40 years.

Orie was the oldest man in business in Campbell. He is 69. When asked how it feels to be retiring he said, "I welcome it—you have to quit sometime."

It was in 1902 when Orie first came to Campbell from the East. He left for a while, returning in 1912, and he has been here ever since.

He was born in Delta, Nebraska, and worked in the Midwest for four years as a barber before coming to Campbell.

He started barbering when haircuts cost 25 cents, and a shave was 15 cents. A loaf of bread was 5 cents—times have changed. He remembers when barbers worked from 7 o'clock until 8 or 9 o'clock at night. Prices may have gone up, but working hours have sure gone down.

Haircutting was all by hand tools when Orie started barbering. It was more rigourous and took longer to cut a head of hair. With the advent of electric clippers it became easier on the barber, but it did not cut the time taken for the average haircut.

Customers Not Talkative

Orie points out that one of the big changes in barbering is the fact that men don't like to talk when they get into the chair nowadays. They have their newspapers to read. Years ago a man wanted to talk—about anything, especially his job.

He remembers horses instead of cars in Campbell's main street; the watering trough in front of the bakery and the fact that where

"Island" of Residents Wants to Join City

An "island" of residents by-passed by the City of Campbell when it extended its city limits several years ago may soon become a part of the City, it was reported this week. The area, known as Campbell Manor Tract located north of W. Campbell Ave., is composed of approximately 30 homes.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, who has spearheaded all recent annexations to the City, told the City Council Monday that he had been contacted by a number of residents in the section as to the possibility of their coming into the City.

Cava asked the Council to authorize Mark Thomas, city engineer, to draw up the boundary lines of the area. The Council granted the request.

Properties fronting on three streets, besides Campbell Ave. are involved. The streets are Hedegard, Amato and Victor.

Cava told the Council that because the area is classified as inhabited an annexation election would be necessary. He said that he already had received letters from six residents asking to join the City and that he had been contacted by others. He estimated that at least one-third of the people in the tract have alreedy signified their willingness to become part of the City of Campbell.

He reported that he had received letters from Les Harmon, 81 Victor; Fred E. Jones, 70 Amato; Raymond E. Barton, 680 Hedegard; Ernest L. Morse, 81 Amato; T. O. Bergstrom, 91 Victor and Robert M. Culp, 730 Hedegard, requesting that steps be taken to bring Campbell Manor Tract into the City.

Several years ago, some of the residents told Cava, that a petition for annexation had been circulated in the area but the majority of residents were against the move. However, they now feel that the feeling has changed.

One resident, (Culp) wrote: "I feel, as my neighbors do, that annexation of this specific area will be a benefit to the people living in Campbell Manor. We hope this can come about as soon as possible, and we can become a part of the fine City of Campbell."

Another resident (Bergstrom) added ". . . .we are now surrounded and feel that the majority of residents are ready to come into Campbell" . . .

Council to Hear City Hall Report

Whether the City has enough money in its building fund to complete the remodeling job of the City Hall will be learned Friday night in an adjourned session at the Fire Station on N. Central Ave.

W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector, told the Council Monday night that he was afraid it was running too close for comfort and that both he and Fred Marburg, architect, needed to know whether the City could scrape up any extra money to finish the job or that some of the work would have to be curtailed.

Morser said that a report on the amount spent on the project would be ready Friday, as well as what was needed to complete the work. The City allotted $20,000 for the job. Morser said that painting and installation of fixtures are yet to be done on the former Congregational Church on N. Central Ave. that is being converted into Campbell's first City Hall.

County Voters Follow National Trend in Ike, Dick Landslide

Voters in Santa Clara County followed the National trend Tuesday when President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon were landslided back into office by an overwhelming majority of votes cast against Democrats Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

The 66-year-old chief Executive carried 41 states with 457 electoral votes as opposed to the seven states and 74 electoral votes taken by Stevenson.

However, Republican jubilation was somewhat dimmed by the fact that for the first time in 108 years the American people have given a re-elected President a Senate and House of the opposition party.

Kuchel Tops Richards

In the race for the United States Senate in California, Republican incumbent Thomas H. Kuchel received a smashing majority against State Senator Richard Richards. With 769 precincts reporting out of 892 in Santa Clara County, Senator Kuchel received 65,866 popular votes—Richards, 50,444.

Gubser Re-elected

In the 10th Congressional District race, Charles S. Gubser (Rep-Gilroy) was returned to the House of Representatives for the third term. He took an early lead over his opponent Dr. William H. Vatcher Jr., a San Jose State College political science professor, and carried all three counties of the 10th District.

Gubser received a popular vote of 67,,231 (with 769 precincts out of 892 reporting), and Dr. Vatcher, 47,609 in the County.

COUNTY TAKES BEATING

County voters dumped all except one of the seven County bond proposals, and defeated both of the proposed revisions of the County charter.

The only bond issue to gain the necessary two thirds majority was the $1,200,000 measure to build a new Juvenile Hall.

Bradley, Allen Victorious

Both of the County's Republican members of the State Assembly were assured of another two years in Sacramento. Clark L. Bradley, 28th District, defeated Allan Isaksen, while Bruce F. Allen 29th District, gained a victory over William H. Harris Jr.

his present shop now stands was a meat market—Downing's, and next door the Post Office.

His shop was once located where the Campbell Hardware Store now stands. He barbered there for 13 years until the place was torn down in 1930, and he built his present shop. The stump of the old barber pole can still be seen in the sidewalk at the hardware store.

Bauk Robbery

The Campbell branch of the American Trust Company was held up on December 22, 1935. Orie left a customer in the chair while he went off to shoot it out with the robbers. He borrowed a gun from a neighboring store and, with a companion, challenged the thieves.

He was credited with saving a money bag when one of the desparadoes dropped in his haste to escape from the gunfire. The bandits were lowering themselves out of the back window of the bank when Orie and his companion opened fire on them.

The crooks netted $2200 but were rounded up by the sheriff a few days after the holdup.

Orie remembers leaving customers with their hair half cut while he went out to fight a fire. He remembers the old "Blossom Line" streetcar route—so-called because of the gerariums planted along the right of way. The line ran from San Jose through Campbell and the Cambrian Park district to Los Gatos.

Orie presently lives at 381 Campbell Ave. He has four children—two girls and two boys. The daughters are both married and live in Southern California. One of the sons also lives down south and is un-married. The other one lives in Campbell.

He is Verle Grizzle, proprietor of the jewelery store next door to the barber shop. In fact it was part of the barber shop until Orie divided it up and gave his son half for the jewelery store.

Now that the barber shop is closed the jewelrey store will take over its area. The two stores will be remodeled into one as part of the "operation face lift" for the downtown business area.

Tommy Petroff, Orie's assistant, will go to the City Barber Shop here in town. He has been with Orie for more than two years.

Orie will continue to barber on a part-time basis in other shops in the area. Also, to keep him occupied, he has his orchard ranch off Moore Avenue out toward Saratoga.

As for the price of haircuts: Orie calls barbers "the poorest paid mechanics in the world." He believes haircut prices will continue to rise.

Civil Defense Sets 'Operation Quiver' Drill for Tonight

Campbell Civil Defense will go into action at 6 tonight for "Operation Quiver", in a mock drill, simulating the 1906 earthquake and emergency action to be taken in such a disaster, according to A. M. Cook,local deputy director under Mayor John M. Chargin.

Cook will be in charge of the "disaster relief". He will contact the State Civil Defense Director at both 8 and 10 P. M. to inform him of the extent of "damage" suffered here, and report on what has been done at the local level in cooperation with the fire and police and other departments in "putting out fires, taking care of injured, feeding people made homeless by the disaster" and other emergency situations. The mock emergency will continue until midnight.

The local group, recently organized, is preparing to schedule training classes emergency rescue work, first aid, other phases of emergency disaster training and persons interested in contributing their time to the community in this manner, may contact A. M. Cook at Campbell City Hall, FRanklin 8-2255 or at his home, FRanklin 8-5287.

The local Civil Defense unit will also request all local "ham" radio operators to register with them in order that they will be available in the event of a disaster. Local "ham" operators were commended for their cooperation with the Red Cross during last December's flood and the valuable assistance rendered by them at that time.

V. E. Allen, 150 Cherry Lane, that it was estimated that it would cost $3540 to pave the parkway on that street. And there was a drainage problem involved.

The Council deferred any action on the street improvement until next budget time. Allen, in his complaint, said that he had counted at least 200 cars in one hour moving to and from the Cherry Lane School.

Thomas reported that it would take $6650 of the city's money to pay for the necessary storm drains for the Arroyo Gardens subdivision that has asked to come into the City. Councilmen sadly realized that the City hasn't got that kind of dough, despite the fact that it would eventually be the gainer by acquiring the new tract.

Planners Set Hatchery Zone Change Hearing

Whether there will be renewed activity at the long idle Campbell Hatchery, 60 Mission Way, will probably rest upon the decision of the Campbell Planning Commission at the public hearing set for December 6.

The City Planners last Thursday night set that date for the hearing for the change of zone request of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Burda, owners of the property. The Burdas wish to have the now residential zone in which the hatchery is located changed to commercial.

Previously the Burdas had been denied their request to change the zone to light industrial when a number of residents in the locality protested the change because of the possible traffic problem involved on the narrow street (Mission Way).

When the zone-change was denied, it was suggested that their request would be looked upon with more favor if access to Rincon Ave. was provided. It is understood that their new repuest for the change to a commercial zone provides for this.

In one of the briefest Commission meetings on record, the Planners in addition to setting the hearing date, approved the remodeling plans of Verle O. Grizzle for a new store front at 381 E. Campbell Ave. They also ordered an ordinance amendment drafted to cut down the "red tape" involved in minor construction. The amendment would eliminate the necessity of Commission approval for small signs.

The Planners also decided to wait until the annual election of officers in January before taking any action on a change in the selection of secretary for the Commission. At the present time a member of the Commission (Les Harmon) is the elected secretary while Evelyn Adamson, deputy city clerk, keps the minutes and acts as secretary to the Commission.

It has been suggested that the City Clerk (and thus her deputy) could be officially named secretary and speed-up much of the detail work of the Commission. The city ordinance allows for the secretary to be either a member or nonmember of the Commission.

When Mrs. Fred Rost and daughter, Mrs. George Gordon, were down south recently, they stopped to visit their old friend and former Campbell physician, Dr. Walter I. Mrs. Rost reports that Dr. Merrill is improving after his recent illness. Mrs. Rost and daughter also visited another former Campbellite, Floyd Bohnett, who now makes his home with Mrs. Bohnett at Riverside. The travellers stopped at Knott's Berry Farm on their return to Campbell.

Rotary Launches Drive Safe Contest

The Campbell Rotary Club launched another phase of its year-long community safety program this week by initiating a poster and essay contest at Campbell High School on the subject "Safe Driving Through Better Vision."

Prizes of $25 in cash or alternate appropriate merchandise will be awarded to the high school student with the best poster and best essay, according to Doug Fitzgerald, safety chairman of the Campbell Rotary Club. All students enrolled at the school are eligible to enter the competition.

The contest is state-wide and local winners will compete their entries against other students in Santa Clara County and California.

The project is co-sponsored by the Santa Clara County Optometric Society, (along with the Rotary Club). Robert Jasmine, local optometrist and Rotarian is chairman of the program in Campbell.

Adult Civil Defense Radiological Class To Start at School

Campbell and Camden High School's Adult Education Division's new mobile radiological laboratory operators' course will hold its first meting tonight at 7 o'clock in room 71 at Campbell High School.

All persons with a math and physical science background interested in working with a mobile radiological laboratory are asked to attend. Such a laboratory is a vital factor in the radiological phase of Civil Defense. In the event of atomic attack the laboratory would measure the radioactive contamination of the air and test food and water supplies for contamination.

A well equipped mobile radiological laboratory is available but lacks the necessary number of trained operators needed to man it on a round the clock basis, according to the Adult Centers.

Aside from the public service aspect of the course, it will give some introduction to the field of nuclear physics, which is now so rapidly expanding in scope and importance.

Teaching the course will be Dr. E. S. Greene, of the department of Physical Sciences at San Jose State College. Dr. Greene is head of the Radiological Safety Service Division of Civil Defense in Santa Clara County.

For those interested in volunteering, but not so well prepared in science and mathematics, a course in radiological monitoring will be offered early in January by the adult centers.

Holiday Festivities Occupy Spotlight This November

A growing number of holiday festivities occupy the spotlight during the coming weeks of November as the heavy season of fall fairs, vintage festivals and other celebrations begin to taper off throughout the State, the Travel and Recreation Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce announced last week.

There will be a variety of things to see and do, and places to go, particularly in the central and southern part of the State, where a number of Christmas previews and parades, festivals, garden shows, yacht races, livestock expositions, rodeos and other late fall activities have been scheduled.

Some of the events scheduled for towns in Central California are as follows: Stockton—Veteran's Day Parade at the Civic Auditorium November 11, parade begins downtown at 10 a.m.; Berkeley—Alameda County Veterans' Day Parade November 11; and the University of California Homecoming Parade on Shattuck Avenue, November 16 at 2 p.m.

San Leandro—Antique Show at the Alta Mira Club House, November 8 to 10; Turlock—Far West Turkey Show at the fairgrounds November 27 to 29; and in San Francisco, the Annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, (horse show and rodeo) at the Cow Palace, began November 2 and will end November 11.

Educator Speaks To Dover Parents

What parents can do to implement the educational program, was discussed by Dr. William Rogers of the Education Department at San Jose State College, at Dover Home and School Club meeting last Monday. To lessen parental complacency due to California's high national standing as the second state in the nation in quality of school systems, Dr. Rogers stressed the fact that California rates twenty-ninth or thirtieth in the nation with regard to educational efforts in proportion to state wealth.

Dr. Rogers further reminded his listeners that school administrators and trustees invariably reflect the wishes of the people and that concerned parents could and should make their ideas in regard to quality of our schools known to those in charge. He concluded his talk with the remark that most of us pay more in a year for upkeep on our cars than we do in school taxes directly benefitting our children.

Roy Monsen, Home and School Club president, opened the meeting. A variety show, entirely produced, presented and directed by sixth grade students, preceded the guest speaker, with Al Semenza, sixth grade teacher, introducing the program. Exhibits and demonstrations were also provided by the Art and Science Committee of the sixth grade.

The evening was concluded by serving of refreshments by second grade mothers.

SAN TOMAS 4-H RENAMED CAMPBELL

When San Tomas 4-H Club held their meeting last Monday, it was decided to change their name to Campbell 4-H Club.

Other matters taken up at the meeting were preparation for the group's annual Christmas party, with the following committee chosen to make arrangements for the affair: Bob Carnesecca, Jim Payne, Pat Wrigglesworth, Pat Murphy, Leo DePalma and Marcia Slauter. Karen Furchner, president of the club, presided. Richard Slauter is the group's leader.

The club meets regularly the first Monday of each month from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Cherry Lane School, and is open to all interested young people over the age of 10. Those interested in joining must submit their registration cards by the end of December. For further information youngsters may call the group's leader, Richard Slauter at FRanklin 8-4732.

Rotary Hears Talk On Trip to Russia

The Rev. Herbert Neale, minister of the First Methodist Church of Campbell, spoke to the Campbell Rotary Club last Monday at noon on his recent study-tour of Russia.

Rev. Mr. Neale spent 28 days behind the iron curtain last summer. He said that he believes that the Russian and American people both have distorted pictures of each other due to propaganda.

According to the Rev. Mr. Neale, there is more freedom in Russia today than in the past. Once the itinerary of the study group was accepted its movement was unrestricted. "We were not followed by the secret police," Rev. Mr. Neale said. Baggage was not inspected, but members of the group were prohibited from taking pictures of military installations.

He also noted that health costs in Russia are nil, although housing conditions are deplorable. There is much griping, but little disaffection.

Bill Murphy, a student from Camden High School, was the Rotary Club's student guest at the meeting.

Kenneth Bitzer Bestows Name on Eunice Marcuson in Autumn Rites

West Side Nazarene Church in San Jose was the setting for the double ring ceremony on September 30, when Miss Eunice Louise Marcuson became the bride of Kenneth Richard Bitzer. The Rev. Kenneth Vogt performed the ceremony. Duane Kling sang "Because" and "Always", accompanied by Mrs. Charles Schoemaker at the organ.

When she was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white tulle over bridal satin which she fashioned herself. The floor length skirt was bouffant, topped with a peplum of brocaded nylon tulle. The long, tapered sleeves came to a point at the wrist and a sweetheart neckline topped the bodice. A seed pearl encrusted crown held her fingertip veil and she carried a spray of white orchids and carnations.

Her two attendants wore identically styled gowns of organdy over taffeta with ballerina length bouffant skirts. Shawl collars topped fitted bodices and both carried French bouquets of pink carnations. Miss Marilyn Legrand, the bride's maid of honor was in pale green and Miss Nancy Bitzer, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. Her gown was pale pink.

Attired in choir robes, Mrs. Marvin Wood and Miss Joy Marney were candle lighters.

Flower girls, Sherrn Smith and Susan Lawhead, in pale blue nylon dotted Swiss full-skirted long dresses, scattered pink rosebud petals down the aisle perceding the bride, while Allen Barton and Mickey Maynes were ring bearers.

Marvin Wood attended the groom as best man and the following were ushers: Benny Gardner, Pat Hiland, Fred Billingham, Robert Worrell and Les Lawhead.

Mrs. Paul Marcuson chose a royal blue brushed wool dress for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Kenneth L. Bitzer wore a red knit suit for the ceremony. Her costume was accented with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The justweds left for their honeymoon at Clear Lake, following the ceremony. The bride's going-away outfit was a pink shantung sheath with matching duster accented with black patent shoes and handbag, and a pink hat. With it she wore a white orchid corsage.

Following their return from their honeymoon trip, the young couple was feted at a reception in the church parlors when more than 100 friends and relatives of the couple were on hand for the occasion.

Mrs. Kenneth Vogt, assisted by Miss Nancy Bitzer, cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake which was placed in a setting of white mums at the bridal table. The misses Marilyn LeGrand and Joy Marney poured punch, while Mrs. Marvin Wood, poured coffee.

Mrs. Robert Worrell was heard in a number of vocal selections, accompanied by Gurnice Smith. Their first meeting, courtship and marriage were reviewed by friends who recited stanzas of poems which they had written about the couple's romance.

The couple is now at home in Campbell.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Marcuson of White Oaks Ave. in Campbell, attended Campbell schools and is a graduate of Campbell Union High School. She is employed at Bank of America in San Jose.

Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Bitzer of Juanita Way in Campbell. He also is a Campbell Union High School graduate. He is a former member of Campbell Order of DeMolay and a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve. He is employed with Automotive Service in San Jose.

Mrs. Walter Elkey, president of Past Matrons Association, presented the Chapter history book.

During the evening, Mrs. James Arnold, Deputy Grand Matron, was escorted to the East and presented and Mrs. Donald Hartman, Deputy Grand Guardian of the International Order of Job's Daughters, was introduced. Members from Chapters of surrounding communities were also escorted to the East and introduced.

Mrs. Donald Hartman was general chairman for the evening, assisted by Mesdames Walter Elkey, Vernon Suess, George French, LBen Howard, Hartley Gran, Walter Williams, John Takacs, also Donald Hartman and Edwin Parker.

Footlighters to Present Satirical Comedy Friday - Saturday Nights

The Campbell Footlighters will present their version of the "Solid Gold Cadillac" tomorrow night and Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Campbell High School Auditorium, Mrs. Frank Meiss, Footlighter president announced this week.

The play is a satirical comedy on large corporations. The little old lady, an innocent stockholder with 10 shares in a big corporation attends a board of directors' meeting. The four crooked directors of the corporations are so alarmed by her inquiries into their shady activities that they offer her a job and stick her away in an office to keep her out of their hair.

How she finally assumes control of the corporation and exposes the crooks makes an interesting and amusing story, according to Mrs. Meiss.

Mrs. Margaret Chamberlin will take the part of the little old lady, Laura Partridge. Mrs. Chamberlin also is the director of the production. She is known for her work with the Circle Theater in Los Gatos and for her theatrical activities at San Jose State College.

The four stockholders will be played by Bert Legg, Armand Lagomarsino, Max Bowles and Budd Levenberg. Greg Parker will play the role of Edward L. McKeever, and Jocelyn Goudier will be an elderly woman.

Doug Pledger, KNBC (San Francisco) radio personality, will narrate on tape the amusing dialogue which precedes each act. According to Mrs. Meiss, Pledger's famous dry humor can't fail to make the very best of these tremendously funny commentaries.

Another radio personality, Ron Hayes, of station KSJO (San Jose), will portray the heroic mail clerk in the production.

Mark Jenkins will handle the musical effects. Secretaries and press people are portrayed by Ida Levenberg, Tony Bellilo, George Nelson, LBen Howard, Norman Corvello, Bonnie Bennett, Ruth Morrill, and Mrs. Meiss.

The Camden High School P.T.A. sponsors the production. Their proceeds will be used for new school equipment.

Any profits made by the Footlighters will go toward a scholarship fund in the field of drama and art, according to Mrs. Meiss.

DON'T CRY . . . Laura Partridge (standing), an innocent stock holder who takes over a large corporation, consoles one of the corporation secretaries in a scene from tomorrow night's Campbell Footlighters' presentation of the "Solid Gold Cadillac." Mrs. Margaret Chamberlin portrays Laura Partridge. The secretary is Mrs. Frank Meiss, Footlighter president.

ST. LUCY'S DADS PLAN TURKEY TROT

"Turkey Trot" is the theme used by St. Lucy's Dads' Club for their dance to be held Saturday evening at Onishi Hall in San Jose.

Prizes of turkeys will be awarded that evening and dancing will be to the tune of Ray George and his orchestra.

Ray Einberger is charman of the affair, with Pete Aiello, co-chairman.

Further information may be obtained from Einberger at FRanklin 8-4016 or Aiello at FRanklin 8-8021.

In her floral arrangements, two of which were formal and two informal, Madame Bett brought out traditional symbolic points which she stated are used in all Japanese floral arrangements.

Madame Bett stated that the art of flower arranging in Japan goes back 500 years and that all girls are taught the art. Mrs. Jane Asanuma was interpreter for Madame Bett. Mrs. Charles Smith introduced the guests.

Tea was served Japanee style following the program and meeting. Committee members for the meeting were: Mesdames Charles Smith, C. W. Shockley, G. E. Farley, W. C. Henley, Florence Vottle, Gilbert Krug, J. B. Herndon and J. W. Forward.

Recent house guests at the D. R. van Rossem home on Casey Road were Mrs. Van Rossem's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hughes of Yreka. After leaving Campbell over a week ago, the Hughes went to Reno to visit another daughter.

HI HAT WITCH . . . This "Scary" witch donned her high hat to join other spooky characters in the Halloween parade at Rosemary School last week when the Home and School Club provided treats for the kids. More than 40 mothers were on hand to watch the fun.

UNICEF HALLOWEEN DRIVE IS SUCCESS

"Trick 'r Treat for UNICEF" proved to be a successful venture for children from the First Methodist Church here who collected $113 to be turned in to the United Nations Children's Fund, along with collections from similar groups throughout the country.

After the Halloween tricksters turned in their contributions, they attended the party at the church given for them by Mmes. Ella Grisset, Howard Guilbert, Merv Willoughby and Mr. and Mrs. John Bergthold. Mrs. Earl Wight was general chairman of the affair, assisted by Mmes. Thayer Lyons, Mervil MacLean and Miss Etta Peoples.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Glenn Coleman have returned to their Fresno home after visiting with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald B. Coleman of East Campbell Ave.

We're for The Face-Lift

We are responsible for coining the phrase, "Operation Face-Lift" to describe the various improvement projects for the stores in what is fast becoming known as "downtown Campbell".

We congratulate all the property owners, merchants and others who have taken the lead in this improvement parade. We are all for the idea.

In our opinion it is a necessary step and is not coming any too soon.

We feel certain that with the proper cooperation from all those concerned, that business section on Campbell Ave. can become an attractive shopping center.

Let's not kid ourselves. Right now it is suffering by comparison with some of the brand new shopping centers that have shot up in this area. And more will come. Let's face it.

So we welcome the move to "face-lift" this section of town.

We feel that the rejuvenation will be a big help to all.

If only as a lift to sagging morale.

City Needs a Bond Issue

Faced with growing pains of every description, Californians are becoming accustomed to bond issues to finance the necessary improvements to meet the needs of its expanding society. That is the way it should be.

We are firm believers in the bond issue method of financing over the pay-as-you-go style whether it be for schools, county or city improvements.

This belief is probably contrary to the old conservative American way of not buying anything until there is money in the bank to pay for it. But even that has gone by the boards in this day of installment buying for the average American.

In our opinion there is no fairer way of financing than through bonds that will be paid off over a period of years, allowing those who will use the facilities an opportunity to help pay for them.

We know it would be just jim dandy to point with pride at these various facilities and say that they are all paid for but we fail to see where anything would be gained by such a philosophy.

That is why we of Campbell must be prepared for a bond issue to finance the needed improvements within the city limits.

When this bond isue will come is still a matter of opinion. But if the City is going to advance and adequately meet the demands of its present and future population, a bond issue is absolutely necessary.

Not enough money can possibly be raised through ordinary taxes to accomplish all that is needed for the town.

So let's face it.

What do we want?

Do we want to travel over bumpy roads? Do we want to continually worry over whether the storm drains are adequate? Do we want to have parks and other recreational centers within the city?

There are countless other facilities that are needed but without finances they can only be wistful dreams and nothing else.

We estimate that more than $500,000 will be needed for street work here. And this does not include some of the widening projects that are planned.

To bring adjacent areas into the City will als cost money. The other night it was pointed out that the city's share for storm drains in just one section would exceed $6000. The area wants to come into the City and it will be beneficial to all concerned for it to be annexed. But there is no money available. So what happens. The City loses another section to a city in better financial straits.

We fail to see any difference between financing school buildings through bond issues and financing needed improvements for the City.

The people are the benefactors in both instances and they also must pay.

Until someone comes along with a better idea of how the City can do all the things it has to do for the benefit of its residents, in the fast-approaching future, we feel that plans should be made for an all-inclusive bond issue for citwide improvements.

And the sooner the better.

OUT on the LIMB
with
George Vierhus

Some idea of how easy it is for one's eyes to deceive one was gained last week in our joint. About six pairs of eyes, as a matter of fact, missed a very obvious miscue on the editorial page.

And our own two eyes were included.

Those of you who read this column weekly must know that it is called "Out on the Limb with George Vierhus". Others may know that there is a catch-all column on the front-page called "On the Line in Campbell".

Both the columns have similar headings in a vague sort of way. "On the Line" has a guy at a phone while "On the Limb" has a bird perched on a limb.

—o—

Anyway two "On the Line" heads appeared in last week's issue, one on the front page and one on the editorial page. "Out on the Limb" as such wasn't around, although the stuff appeared in its usual place on the editorial page. But under the heading "On the Line".

We don't know how many of our readers noticed the mistake but we do know that no one at The Press did until the day after the paper was out.

(In case you are wondering how two similar heads could appear in the same issue, it's simple. We run off two sections each week on the press, so anything that appears in the first press run could also appear in the second.)

What we started out to say was that our eyes read the head on the column as it was supposed to be and not as it actually was. That is often why some typographical errors are never seen until too late, no matter how carefully the proofs are read.

—o—

We are indebted to Lester Lafferty, former publisher of The Press, for recovering one of those reading-lamp bowl-shaped glass shades that we thought we had lost months ago in our move from Southern California to Campbell.

We moved into a house in the Westchester Park area that had a built-in stove so we ended up with an extra stove on our hands. Just recently Les purchased the stove from us.

He called us up after he had finished assembling it (we had stored it in our garage where it did nothing but gather dust). Les told us he had ended up with a lamp shade and some light bulbs that he found in the oven. He wanted to know where they went on the stove.

When we unpacked last May we missed the parts for the lamp and subsequently had to replace them. We looked every place but inside the stove.

Now, thanks to Les, we have an extra set. No more bulb-snatching at our place, we'll have you know.

We have two reasons for including this trivia in this column: (1) there is the moral here of to wit, "seek and you shall find" and (2) we are sorta devoid of other ideas for the column this week. So you will have to suffer along with us.

—o—

Cliff Cassiday, head man in the back shop of The Press, doubles as editor of the Rotary Club bulletin. He had an item this week in his club periodical that is worthy of note.

He mentioned that Bob Culp, an active Rotarian who is Dean of Boys at Campbell High, had the distinction the day after Halloween of becoming a member of that rather exclusive club whose membership has, in most cases, been limited to unsuccessful coaches.

We refer to the "Hanging-in-effigy" organization.

According to Cliff's report, the morning after Halloween found Bob hanging in effigy from the flagpole. The Campbell police apprehended the dummy and turned it over to Bob who exhibited it in his office. It then met its final demise on a bonfire.

—o—

Cliff says that the dummy was supposedly really a work of art. But whether it looked like Culp was a matter of opinion. It was dressed in top hat and tails.

We note that Pappy Waldorf has been hanged in effigy already this season and so has Les Casanova, head coach at Oregon.

We don't know how many deans of boys have had that distinction but we supose the reason more haven't is that disgruntled students haven't thought about it. But they will.

A dean of boys will never win a popularity contest among the students no matter how hard he tries.

If he clamps down, he's a heel. If he doesn't, he's an easy mark.

Hence the effigy. So don't lose any sleep over the escapade, Bob. 'Taint worth it.

Community Forum To Offer Debate

Four speakers, each representing a nation of the world, will debate headline issues of the day at the "World Affairs Council", a miniature United Nations Security Council, to be held at the Sunday Evening Community Forum next Sunday night.

The program begins at 7:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church, Fifth and Santa Clara streets in San Jose.

According to Robert Barton, Forum director, France, America, England and India will be represented by four distinguished speakers: Camille Chautemps, former vice president and four times premier of France; John C. Metcalfe, American Syndicate editor; Arthur Webb, "Dean" of British correspondents in Washington, D. C.; and Dr. Amolak Ram Mehta, distinguished diplomat and health authority from India. Metcalfe is chairman of the Council.

The speakers will take distinctly different points of view to heighten controversy. A question and answer period will follow the debate.

The speakers will be introduced by Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of San Jose State College. There is no admission charge to the event. A free will offering, however, will be taken.

LAW IN ACTION

OTHER MEN'S SHOES

The law is useful because it permits one person to stand in another's shoes: guardians to act for wards, agents for principals, and executors for one who dies and leaves a will.

THE STATE BAR OF CALIFORNIA
JULY 29, 1927

"Subrogation" is one such relationship in which one party takes over the claims of another, thus, for example, to make our machinery of credit and insurance work smoothly.

1. Did you ever sign a former friend's note, only to have him leave you holding the bag? Well, after you paid off his note, you legally stepped into his creditors' shoes with their claims against him.

2. A dealer may sell you a car on time, say, but needing money, he may "assign" your contract to some agency for collection and put the money back in his business.

3. Your insurance company may wear your shoes. A driver rams your parked car. Though at fault, he refuses to pay your repair bill. So rather than sue him as you could, you turn the bill over to your insurance man and get a check back. The company had taken over your claim and collected the bill or sued the driver.

The law frowns upon people who go around volunteering to pay up other people's debts. They may be busy bodies or evil doers. To take advantage of subrogation, a person must have some real stake in the deal. Thus your insurance company could take over your claim because it would have to pay if the driver didn't.

Or suppose when you bought your home you paid the seller enough to cover his mortgage; but he pocketed the money. You do not owe on the mortgage, but you'll lose your home if somebody does not pay it off. So you pay and then can come back at the seller — as if you had held the mortgage yourself.

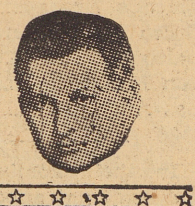
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Some weeks ago, I reported in this column on the general sprucing up which is now going on in Washington generally, and on Capitol Hill in particular. The Capitol Dome sports a brand-new coat of paint—several coats, in fact. The White House fence, which runs clear around the spacious grounds on all sides of the Executive Mansion, has been painted recently. And now, much work is being done inside the office buildings of House and Senate to bring the working accommodations up-to-date in time for the convening of the 85th Congress next January.

That brings up the question of who occupies which office. To those not familiar with the facilities available in Washington, the question may sound rather unimportant, but to the Members of both Houses, it is not. It makes a great deal of difference whether one has to walk several city blocks from one's office to the House Chamber in the Capitol every time the bells ring for a roll call. It also makes a difference whether one has a relatively small office or a large corner suit. In addition to that, there are personal preferences. Some like the brightness of top floor accommodations. Others rather have a street level office with easy access. Still others like to be closer to their committee rooms.

How is this distribution determined? The answer is a foregone conclusion in Washington: By Seniority! The man with the longest seniority has first call on office space, the freshman with none at all has to take what he can get after everything else has been taken. Fortunately, many members prefer to remain in the same quarters once they are "settled", and thus, the turn-over isn't quite as large as it may seem.

This, of course, is merely one example of how seniority determines precedence in Congress. A freshman member takes his place on a committee to which he is newly assigned by order of seniority. If he is the only new appointment, he sits farthest away from the Chairman at the end of the table. If there are several freshmen, they draw lots to determine committee "rank." Both parties thus fill the seats from the Chairman's center position on out toward the ends in order of seniority rank.

PRESIDENTS' BOOK SOLD BY CAMP FIRE

"Our Presidents at a Glance", a booklet providing a word-picture outline on each president of the United States, is being offered for sale by Santa Clara County Council of Camp Fire Girls as a fund raising project to establish a new Camp Wastahi on 159 acres of hill top land near Felton.

Campbell Camp Fire groups are preparing to take part in the booklet sale, but copies are also available at Camp Fire Girls Office, 84 South First St., in San Jose, or will be mailed direct on receipt of a dollar.

College To Present Childrens' Play

"The Crying Princess and the Golden Goose", a childrens' play, will be presented by the San Jose State College Speech and Drama Department on November 17.

The production will run for three performances in the College Studio Theater. The story tells of a king who promises half his kingdom and the hand of his daughter to anyone who can stop his daughter from crying. A young man, with the aid of magic, finally succeeds.

Production of the play will be in arena style, with the child audience sitting around the acting area. Seats should be reserved well in advance because of the limited seating capacity, according to the Department.

For reservations, call the College box office (CY 4-1931) between 1 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon starting next Tuesday. Admission price is 50 cents.

In a democracy, the opposition is not only tolerated as constitutional, but must be maintained because it is indispensable.

Bucs Meet San Jose Tomorrow

The Buccaneers of Campbell High will go out of the league Friday afternoon when they meet the San Jose eleven, at Campbell. San Jose is presently at the bottom of the SAL in one of its worst seasons on record. Campbell fresh from a 12-12 stand off with power house Fremont is expected to handle the Bulldogs with ease.

Campbell's backfield rated to be inexperienced at the beginning of the season is now one of the best backfields in the SCVAL. Bud Scribner has pushed across the most touchdowns with some fine running and even some pass receiving.

The forward wall which helped the Bucs to hold down the Fremont Indians with hard hitting accuracy, will be tuned to perfection for their first encounter with the San Jose club. The entire Campbell team will be out to show their big neighbors the short way home.

Campbell has two remaining games after Friday's encounter.

Dave Alvarez and Tom Farley will be tomorrow's team captains.

Schools To Stage Football Jamboree

The third annual Campbell Union School District Football Jamboree will be held in the afternoon of November 19 at Campbell Union Grammar School, it was announced this week by Joe Stein, physical education consultant.

The event is sponsored jointly by the Campbell Kiwanis Club and the School District.

Approximately 300 boys from the nine District schools will participate. Each boy will play five short games of touch football against another school on teams divided as to skill into "A" and "B" teams.

Jayvees Ring Up First Grid Score Of 1956 Season

On a cold overcast day the Campbell Junior Varsity football team got hot and scored its first victory of the season over a fighting Santa Clara JV team. The final score was Campbell 20 and Santa Clara 6.

Don Womer led the scoring parade with two touchdowns, one coming after a 45 yard sweep of left end, and the other a one yard plunge climaxing a drive. Bob Whitewing swept left end for the third touchdown for the Buc JV's. They also picked up two points on a safety.

Well-pleased Coach Wade Wilson said, "It was a good team effort and they are beginning to play together as a unit. The team has shown steady improvement from the first of the season."

The offensive team had Burdick and Rumbaugh at ends; Walters and Morello, tackles; Dillon and Fuller, guards; Gallagher, center; Cole did the quarterbacking; States and Flaherty were backs; and Womer held down the fullback spot.

The defensive team had: Ends, Jones and Pinkston; Tackles, Walters and Cordova; Guards, Pillinini and Fuller; and center, Leon. The defensive backfield was Cole, States, Ruscigna, and Womer.

The game today is with Lincoln.

San Jose State, Pacific Tangle In 'Traditional'

San Jose State gridders, working on the third longest winless streak in Spartan history, go to Stockton Saturday to meet traditional rival College of the Pacific in the annual Battle of the Bell.

The once-beaten Tigers will be heavily favored in this 32nd renewal of the game which decides Western Independent supremacy, but the Spartans will take heart from the fact that the underdog has won in this series as much or more often than the favorite.

San Jose and Pacific were both dumped in intersectional competition last week, the Spartans bowing to Denver, 35-26, and the Tigers dropping from the unbeaten ranks by virtue of a 14-13 loss to Tulsa.

Both teams have shown fine offensive strength and both rank among the nation's leaders. The Spartans are the third-ranking team in passing offense and the Tigers fourth. Both are also in the first 20 in the nation in total offense.

Individually, the Spartans and Tigers will also present men who rank high nationally. The Tiger's Dick Bass has been among the top rushing leaders all season.

San Jose's Bob Reinhart is the second leading passer in the nation and Pacific's Tom Flores has moved into the top 10. The two quarterbacks also rank in total offense. It follows that the Spartans and Tigers both have leading pass receivers. San Jose's Art Powell ranks third in the nation with 24 receptions for 400 yards while Pacific's Farrell Funston is among the top 10.

Both teams will be willing to forget statistics for a few points on the scoreboard and the Spartans particularly will want to halt a string that has seen them gain one tie and four losses since the opening game win. San Jose will also be out to stop Pacific's streak which has seen them win the last two games in this series. Overall since the first game in 1895, the Spartans have won 17, Pacific nine, with five ties.

Little Bucs, JV's To Play Toughies

The Thirties and the JVs of Campbell each have games with tough adversaries this week. The Thirties journey to Los Gatos to take on the Kittens. After last week's easy victory over the Fremont Thirties the Little Bucs will be confident of a victory.

Quarterback Ron Corbus, halfs Tom Perry and Ron Goff, along with Jerry Cooper have been showing great promise in every game. Coach Hal Raley praised his outstanding line for the good job they did at Fremont.

Junior Varsity action will pit James Lick against the Bucs who will be up against one of their toughest opponents yet this year. Next year's Varsity will be getting a boost from some of the present JVs who are showing promise.

Linemen Pinkston, Jones, Burdick, Walters, Cordova, Pillinini, Tannehill, Fuller, Dillon, Gallagher and Leon are with States, Whitewing, Flaherty, Womer, Ratledge, Cole and Stuart of the backfield, will help fill the hole left by graduating lettermen.

Fremont "Bees" Defeat Bucs by 26 to 6 Score

In the preliminary game to the Varsity game last Friday night, the Campbell High School "B" football team went down to defeat before the Indians of Fremont, 26 to 6. Campbell's lone score came about when Jackson recovered a fumble in the Indians end zone.

Other Buc drives were thwarted by penalties. The starting line up for the game found Hoover and Omura at the end spots; Sawyer and Lindsey at tackle; Stroppa and Toyota at guards; Conners at center; Corbus called the signals; Perry and Bahl were the halfbacks and Yamamoto was the fullback.

Campbell Deadlocks With Fremont High

By Richard Ferguson

The Campbell Buccaneers surprised everyone but loyal rooters last Friday night when they held the Fremont Indians to a 12-12 tie. Only by a last minute surge did the Indians avert a total loss.

Fired-up Buccaneers pounded the Fremont receiver on the opening kickoff and startled the Indians by pouncing on a fumble. Dave Alvarez and Bud Scribner pounded off 30 yeards with Scribner finally slipping the pigskin into the end zone from the 3-yard line. After being held to only 6 yards in three carries the Indians were forced to kick from deep in their own territory.

Late in the first quarter the Bucs started another touchdown drive from the Indian 40 yard line. Jim Corbus spun out around right end for 17 yards to set the ball on the 15 of Fremont, to end the first quarter.

Campbell's offense never let up in their relentless drive for the goal line and continued ground gaining consistently. Three plays later the pigskin was pushed over the goal line of Fremont by Scribner but the extra point was again missed leaving the score at 12-0. Fremont's line began to toughen up but the Bucs tightened up at the same time.

Two punts later the Fremont Indians got a break when a Campbell fumble was recovered by Fremont on the 40 yard line of Campbell. Ruiz finally ran the ball over for Fremont but Mastrandreas kick was no good for the extra point.

The remainder of the first half was played in mid field with each team trying to feel out the others weaknesses. Half-time found the score 12-6 in Campbell's behalf. In the first half Fremont looked like a very much overconfident ball club that thought Campbell would be a push over. The Buccaneer front wall composed of Cordova, Profit, Salvano, Prnjak, and Browne stopped many Indians on the line of scrimmage and some even behind the scrimmage line.

Second half action was confined to the center of the field except on the occasion when the Indians penetrated the Bucs line to the 2 yard line where three Indian men failed to go any deeper. Cal Vargas, Dave Alvarez, and Bud Scribner were the main workhorses on offense for the Bucs while Profit and Cordova were in there hitting on defense. Third quarter action failed to change the score and the quarter ended with the score at 12-6.

The fourth quarter saw Fremont trying everything in despiration and not making much progress against the stiff Campbell defense. Single wing offense was tried but failed to produce any noticeable effects. Campbell's shinning moment in the fourth quarter came when Gene Bowen hauled in a Fremont touchdown pass on his own 15 yard line and ran it back to the 25 before being stopped.

Fremont capitalized on a 20 yard play with only 40 seconds remaining in the game. The try for the extra point was a heartbreaker for the Fremont fans as the boot missed the uprights by two feet. Fremont was dropped into second place behind James Lick as a result of the tie that almost turned into an upset.

Scoring by quarters:

Campbell	0	12	0	0	12
Fremont	0	6	0	6	12

Touchdowns:
Campbell: Scribner 2
Fremont: Zamlich 1, Ruiz 1

Cross Country Team Ties With Fremont

Campbell Union High School cross country team tied for second with Fremont in a meet held last Thursday on the Stanford golf course. A cross country team consists of seven members and is run 1.9 miles over a hilly course.

The team with the lowest number of points is the victor, so in this meet James Lick had 21, Fremon and Campbell 56, and Los Gatos 96. Campbell's team consisted of Hoffman, 7th place and a time of 11:03; Tyrell, 9th, 11:19; Castle, 11th, 11:30; Swindler 13th, 11:31; Zander 22nd, 12:06; Coates 12:12; and Castle 12:31.

Tomorrow Coach Bill Priddy takes his team to Stanford for the trials of the North Coast Section cross country meet.

Campbell "Cees" Beat Los Altos In Cage Battle

In a game that wasn't decided until the last seconds, the Campbell "C" basketball team defeated the Los Altos Knights, 37 to 36. Tahiro led the lightweights with 26 points, all but 11 of his team's points. He sank nine out of 22 shots from the floor and 8 out of 9 free throws.

The Campbell "D's" held a four point lead at half time and maintained it the rest of the game to win 21 to 17. The little Bucs had difficulty finding their eye as they only sank 6 field goals out of 28 attempts. High scorer for Campbell was Mayeda with 6.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Hardy garden lilies should be planted more. Now is the time to plant the bulbs.

2. Divide and transplant perrennals such as Shasta and Michelmus Daisies.

3. Most lawns are benefitted by a winter mulch of humus material such as weed-free steer manure or peat moss. The mulch should be no deeper than 1/4 inch thick.

4. Be sure to protect young plants from snail injury with a liberal application of snail poison.

5. This is a favorable time to re-arrange the garden. Most shrubbery can be safely transplanted. All types of container shrubbery can be set out now.

Color Plants for Thanksgiving

Beginning with Thanksgiving and extending through the following weeks, the holidays include entertaining and parties—all of which call for indoor decorations. And there's no better place to pick your decorations than from your own garden, says the California Association of Nurserymen, from the many shrubs that provide attractive boughs of colored leaves and berries.

Two shrubs of the Barberry family make wonderful garden plantings and give foliage and berries suitable for indoor decorations. They are the Wintergreen Barberry (B Julianae), which is evergreen or semi-deciduous with reddish colored fall foliage, and the Japanese Barberry (B. Thunbergii), a deciduous shrub featuring orange, yellow and red fall foliage and scarlet berries in the winter.

A hardy berry shrub throughout the entire state is the Beauty Berry (Callicarpa). It is deciduous and after the leaves drop, the thick clusters of violet or purple berries color the entire shrub. Species of the Beauty Berry include American Beauty (C. americana), Japanese (C. japonica) and C. bodinieri giraldii. The purple berries of the Beauty Berry combine nicely with the waxy white fruits of the Snowberry shrub (Symphoricarpos) which is a native of North America. The Snowberry is deciduous and grows either low and spreading or erect. Its berries offer an interesting color contrast in holiday decorations.

Cotoneaster too will provide attractive boughs full of bright berries during the holidays. The low growing C. Dammeri forms a mat of branches that root as they spread with glossy foliage, white flowers and scarlet berries. Also a crawler, the Rock Cotoneaster (C. horizontalis) loses its foliage in cold winters but the scarlet berries color the branches and so the leaves are not missed.

Indoor holiday decorations should include that traditional favorite, the Holly (Ilex) in some of its many attractive forms. It grows with rich, dark green foliage, sometimes silver and gold variegated and always of course the berries—red, orange, yellow or black. The English Holly (I. Aquifolium) grows throughout California and will eventually reach 40 feet. Lower growing Hollies include the Chinese (I. crenata) and varieties of the English, such as Narrowleaf (angustifolia).

Gardeners in the warmer winter sections of the state can grow the Poinsetta shrub (Euphorbia pulcherrima) as a holiday color plant, too, Its brilliant scarlet pinwheel blooms grow in single or double form and bloom throughout the winter months. In colder winter areas of the state gardeners can try indoor container growing of Poinsettias; they're worth the effort, for their flowers are outstandingly beautiful on or off the plant.

And gardeners in all sections of the state can grow the Firethorn, better known as Pyrancantha. Its red, orange and scarlet berries are traditional harbingers of fall and the holiday seasons and there are many species and varieties available for different types of landscape plantings.

Your garden and home need not lack traditional decorative holiday color. Plant some of these berry and foliage color shrubs available at your local nurseryman now.

Daphnes for Winter Fragrance

Perfume your garden with a Daphne bush, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen. The Daphne is evergreen or deciduous, depending on the climate, and the species and varieties, all of which make handsome as well as pleasingly fragrant garden companions.

Best known and most widely planted in this state is the Winter Daphne (D. odora) which is evergreen. It has narrow glossy rich green leaves and blooms with flowers that are pink on the outside with creamy pink throats. The flowers gather in clusters at the ends of the branches during February and March. Daphne odora marginata; often called the Yellowedge grows similar to its parent but its leaves are edged in yellow. Other varieties are Rose Queen and alba. Rose Queen's flowers are larger while alba's are waxy white; both plants have dark green foliage.

The handsome appearance of this Daphne is heightened by its sweet, intense fragrance which fills the garden air.

The prime requisite of the Daphne is excellent drainage. It needs the morning sun but should be protected from reflected heat in very warm climates. Daphnes will tolerate acid soil but do not require it; do not mulch with peat moss or sawdust. Prune the Daphne odora when in bloom or immediately afterwards. To do so, remove the laterals just below the ends of branches; to encourage upright growth cut to inside buds, to outside buds for spreading growth.

The Lower Conifers

The dignity and permanency that conifers lend to a garden or yard can scarcely be matched by any other type of evergreen shrub. And the low conifers provide low growing foundation plants that will accent the line of the house, define a garden bed or cover the ground in hard to garden spots.

Junipers are among the finest low conifers, says the California Association of Nurserymen. The Armtsrong Spreading Juniper (J. chinensis armstrongii) grows in a low, arching manner, its soft gray green foliage reaching two feet and spreading to four feet. It will do well in sun or part shade in most parts of the state. A broad, low mound less than two feet high is formed by the J. chinensis japonica and a taller height of six feet is reached by the J. communis hibernica fastigiata or Narrow Irish Juniper. This conifer is a narrow, erect plant, blue green in color, spreading but one or two feet; it grows well in full sun or semi-shade.

Even lower growing, the Tamarix Juniper (J. Sabina tamariscifolia) spreads out flat and reaches upward 12 to 18 inches. Its foliage is bright green and there is a variegated form with scattered branches dappled creamy white.

In Cypresses the Ellwood (Chamaecyparis Lawsoniana Ellwoodi) reaches its frosty blue green branches up to six feet in a cone shape.

There are many other low conifers available for accent planting in the garden and yard. Many of them make ideal Christmas trees planted in tubs. Visit your local nurseryman and get his suggestions on the types best suited for your plantings.

There are different kinds of self-love. As an instinct, it is desirable and important. As a modification of true benevolence, it is commendable. But as an idolatrous affection, it is censurable.

Vaccinate Dogs, Health Department Warns Hunters

Hunters were warned this week by the State Health Department that their dogs should be vaccinated against rabies before taking to the field.

Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director, pointed out that quarantine measures have been set up in many hunting areas in the State which prohibits free movement of dogs which have not been vaccinated.

Dr. Merrill explained that quarantine action was taken because of an increase of rabies in wildlife, particularly in skunks, is exposing dogs to unnecessary risks unless they have been vaccinated. This is particularly true in the case of highly trained hunting dogs, according to Dr. Merrill.

In many areas, unvaccinated dogs running at large are subject to being picked up and impounded and vaccinated at the owner's expense.

Dr. Merrill advised hunters to take the following precautions before starting out on a hunting trip: Vaccinate dogs with an approved anti-rabies vaccine; securely attach the vaccination tag to the dog's collar and make ceertain the collar is worn at all times. Also, the local health officers in the area in which an individual plans to hunt should be consulted as to local rabies control ground rules. This is particularly important because permission for dogs to run at large after vaccination is up to the quarantine officer.

REGISTER

Late November is the time to do dormant spraying and to begin frost protection measures, such as mulching. Dormant spraying is especially effective now that pests are inactive and more easy to eliminate.

Pruning time is here. When pruning, keep the natural shape and form of the shrub in mind. Following your pruning (and you can get detailed instructions from your nurseryman or from books he'll have) give your whole garden a thorough clean up spray.

Azaleas and Rhododendrons will soon be widely available in local nurseries. They can be obtained in pots or in root balls. If you garden in areas which are considered too warm for Rhododendrons then try its relative the Azalea—or you can grow Azaleas in containers indoors. And they make lovely Christmas gift plants too!

I love these little people; and it is not a slight thing, when they, who are so fresh from God, love us.

—Dickens

Cambrian Stages Saturday Events

Under the direction of Bob Meek, recreational director of the Cambrian School District, 144 youngsters participated last Saturday in the first Saturday recreational program held at the D. M. Bagby School. The program, which is to be a regular activity of the district, will take place at the Cambrian School this Saturday. The Bagby Home and School Club, under the direction of Mrs. Rosemary Maxwell, assisted in the staging of the events.

On the following Saturday, November 17, the activities will be held at the Steindorf School. It is hoped that the new Farnham School will be completed in time for the subsequent program, Meek said.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Cambrian Men's Club, Cambrian Elementary School District and the Campbell Union High School Recreational District.

Although this is the first time a Saturday program has been scheduled, Friday night activities for seventh and eighth graders were started in previous years. Under Sal Colletto this program will continue in the Cambrian Men's Club building at the Cambrian School.

Bicycle Rodeos are among the activities scheduled for the Saturday events.
